Dated: November 7, 2013

Dear PharmAthene Stockholder:

As you know, we are holding a special meeting of stockholders to vote on proposals related to our proposed merger with Theraclone Sciences. The meeting is scheduled for December 3, 2013 at Dentons US LLP, 1301 K Street, NW, Suite 800, East Tower, Washington, DC, 20005 at 9:00 a.m.

We wanted to take a moment to emphasize why this merger is beneficial for PharmAthene stockholders. We are very enthusiastic about this transaction and hope that you will take the time to vote and show your support for the merger, which we believe represents a significant value-creating opportunity for you and your fellow stockholders.

The combination of PharmAthene and Theraclone accelerates our long-term business strategy of achieving broader portfolio diversification while expanding our business to serve both high-value government and commercial markets. Most importantly, we believe it will unlock new value for PharmAthene stockholders, and provide greater returns for stockholders than would otherwise be possible if we remained a standalone business.

The combined company will have an enviable portfolio comprised of four clinical-stage product candidates. Specifically, a promising new universal flu therapeutic (TCN-032) currently in Phase 2 development; a novel monoclonal antibody to treat Cytomegalovirus (CMV) infection (TCN-202), also in Phase 2 development; a next-generation rPA anthrax vaccine (SparVax®) commencing additional Phase 2 testing later this year, and a novel anthrax anti-toxin (Valortim®), which has completed Phase 1 clinical testing. In addition, the combined company will have a pipeline including multiple pre-clinical and discovery product candidates.

We will also have a highly-innovative technology platform, I-STAR™ that has already been validated through Theraclone's partnerships with Pfizer, Inc., Zenyaku Kogyo, and the International Aids Vaccine Initiative. We believe I-STAR™ has the potential to generate value for stockholders in two important ways: through additional partnership funding and proprietary new product development.

We are particularly excited because monoclonal antibody companies represent one of the most exciting and fastest growing segments of the pharmaceutical industry today and generally have market capitalizations in excess of pure-play biodefense companies. We believe that our merger with Theraclone represents a compelling opportunity to catalyze value for PharmAthene stockholders both today and over the longer-term. As a stronger company with broader portfolio diversification, innovative products targeting high-value government and commercial markets, increased potential to generate non-dilutive funding through new corporate partnerships and government funding sources, and the possible upside tied to a favorable outcome in our case against SIGA Technologies, we are very enthusiastic about the future prospects for the combined company. Accordingly, your Board of Directors recommends that you, our valued stockholders, vote the enclosed proxy card FOR the plan of merger today. You may vote your shares by telephone or internet by following the instructions on the enclosed proxy card.

Very truly yours,

/s/ Mitchel Sayare

Theraclone has a portfolio of innovative antibodies in clinical and preclinical development targeting serious medical conditions with a significant unmet medical need and a primary focus on infectious disease and cancer, which include:

- TCN-032 - a recombinant fully human monoclonal antibody for the treatment of patients hospitalized with serious influenza
- TCN-202 - a recombinant fully human monoclonal antibody for the treatment and prevention of cytomegalovirus, or CMV infections
